ABSTRACT

The 39 tables and 3 figures of Section J describe education in New York state in the 1990s and into 2003. These tables contain information that makes it possible to compare these statistics with those of previous years and from other states. Tables are grouped into these categories: (1) fall enrollments in public and nonpublic elementary and secondary schools; (2) public school finances and professional positions; (3) high school graduates, college entrants, dropout rates; (4) enrollments, degrees granted, and expenditures by institutions of higher education; (5) State University of New York enrollments, degrees granted, and employees; (6) tuition assistance, student loans, scholarships and awards; (7) educational attainment; (8) libraries, archives, and museums; (9) support for the arts; and (10) public television and broadcasting. Most data are for academic years beginning with 1997-1998, with emphasis on the most recent years and some trend data going back to 1960. (SLD)

1 The local units charged with the administration of schools in New York State may be placed in three categories:

a The "common school" district dates from 1812 and is limited to providing education through the eighth grade. The district was originally set up in 1812 to render "common schooling" or the three Rs. The district was and for the most part has continued to be small in area. Some common districts have consolidated but continue to function as common school districts. The district is governed by a sole trustee or a board of three trustees.

b City school districts are subdivided into two fiscal categories. School districts of cities of population under 125,000 are fiscally independent. School districts of the "Big Five cities" (population over 125,000) are fiscally dependent and have boundaries which are coterminous with the city.

c The "union free" district, unlike the common district, may provide high school services when granted a charter by the Board of Regents, although some union free districts provide elementary school services only and in that regard function quite like common districts. Central school districts and central high school districts, while organized under special provisions of the law, function thereafter as union free districts and may, therefore, properly be put in the category of union free districts. When a union free or central district employs its own superintendent of schools, it is called an independent village superintendency district. Its operation, however, is not changed materially.

2 Districts are counted annually in September.

3 Includes "Big Five" cities (New York, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, and Yonkers), other smaller independent city districts and city central districts.

4 Includes village central school districts.

5 The supervisory district serves in an intermediate position; that is, between the State and the local district. The geographical extent of the supervisory district is determined by a grouping of towns. The administrative officer of the supervisory district is the district superintendent whose qualifications by law must be the same as those of the city and village superintendents. The district superintendent serves as both a local officer and a State officer.

6 BOCES (Boards of Cooperative Educational Services) are service organizations created by law to do for a district that which it cannot do by or for itself because of size, financial burden, etc. BOCES are not included in the Total Districts column because they function as providers of services to regional groups of school districts.

a Includes clinical faculty.

b Includes medical interns or resident students classified as "clinical assistant instructors".

c Includes central staff employees.

1 When using headcount to summarize full-time and part-time employees, each person is counted as one "head" regardless of the amount of work completed for the institution. In this summary, no attempt has been made to reduce the part-time employees to their full-time equivalency (FTE). Full-time and part-time status is determined by the institution.

2 Faculty headcount includes all employees holding an academic rank, including librarians and clinical faculty.

3 Professional-Non-Faculty employees include a combination of the following titles: a) other professionals, b) executive/administrative personnel, and c) teaching assistants and associates.

4 The State University made reporting changes starting in Fall 2001 which impact the comparibility of this report with those previously published. The changes include:

a) The full- and part-time status of faculty on leave is determined by their full- or part-time obligation to the institution prior to their leave. Effects SUNY state-operated institutions.

b) All accounts are used to identify clinical faculty with more than one account, not just the first one. This change effects Buffalo Center, Stony Brook Center, Downstate Medical and Upstate Medical.

5 Cornell Contract College data includes full-time employees of the Geneva Experimental Station and support staff.

6 Includes employees working at Education Opportunity Centers.

7 Excludes employees working at Education Opportunity Centers.

X Not applicable.

1 Based on average daily attendance, which is determined by dividing the total number of attendance days of all pupils in public elementary and secondary schools by the number of days school was in session.

2 The main fund of each school district; it supports expenditures for all operations not provided for in special purpose funds.

3 Created in 1978 to provide principal and interest payments for long-term debt; prior to 1978 these were paid from the General Fund.

4 Does not include the following special purpose funds: Trust and Agency Fund, School Store Fund, School Food Service Fund, and Capital Fund.

Note: Starting in 1994, Risk Retention Fund is included. This fund is used in those instances where a school district has established a self-insurance program.

5 Includes Board of Education, central administration, community services, transportation, nonbudgetary expenditures, undistributed expenditures, interfund transfers, and fixed charges.

6 Created in 1964 for special projects or programs supported in whole or in part with Federal funds.
